

SoulJourney Chakra Portraits

by Leah Bowden

the healing flow of our authentic, divine radiance

You are ready to be who you really are:
WE ARE ALL DIVINE BEINGS.

It's time to relax your life-long holding back.

It's safe now to recognizing who you really are.

Come and float into the arms of your divine self.

Feel your wings unfurl. Feel the love flow into you and out through every pore in your body. Feel your dream coming closer to your life.

Let's get on with it.
There's work to be done.

Every moment we waste in doubting that we are the ones to do it because we fear that we aren't pure enough we aren't wise enough we don't have our act together is a moment in which we are cheating ourselves of our true inheritance, individually and collectively.

"FINALLY someone sees me! I was so moved by the portrait and even more amazed with how the tape was right on the money."
Stacey Wall, Reiki Master

"If you are looking for a unique opportunity to gain powerful access to your true inner spirit and strengths, I strongly recommend that you contact Leah Bowden." Rosette Rubins, artist, poet, teacher

"Having my portrait done by Leiah Bowden was a calming and profound experience in itself. She is a master at paying attention, moving into the inner realms, and recording all the fire and light that our limited vision keeps us from.
Leiah is a true visionary, in every sense of the word."

A full SoulJourney Energy Portrait includes all the presentations of energy flow and more than the chakras. Sometimes, helper beings appear.

What's a SoulJourney Chakra Portrait?

Imagine that you could look in a mirror that would show you the most helpful, relevant aspects of your soul as it expresses itself in your energy field, in a multidimensional array like a constellation spanning time and space.

Now – narrow your focus to one energy center in your multidimensional body. Each chakra has a specific focus and includes information from the entire array of your multidimensional consciousness.

A Chakra Portrait is that mirror, in a way. It's a hand-drawn portrait of what Leah sees when she opens herself to your whole being, and focuses on one of your energy centers. She sees what your consciousness looks like as colored lights pouring around and through you. She draws what she sees, and at the same time, receives sounds from your soul in the form of messages, songs and chants.

So as she draws what she sees of your soul's outpouring, she sings, chants, and transmits the spoken messages from your soul. Her clients have called the singing and chanting 'energizing', 'relaxing', 'inspiring', and 'deeply moving'.

Chakra Portraits

by Leah Bowden show the flow of multidimensional energy through a specific energy center in the body. No two are alike, although some chakras tend to be certain colors, for example: throat - blue; heart: green and/or pink; solar plexus: gold/orange.

Throat: your deepest truths

Heart: how you experience love

Solar Plexus: how you keep yourself safe

Recurse Center: how you organize your personal energy

Root: how you are connected to the ground of your multidimensional being
